

Stars of the Week

Each week we would like to highlight the work of a few children who have impressed us with their learning either at home or school. Ordinarily we would present certificates in school for this, but as we can't do that, we will celebrate them here together.

Ashton Bell for trying so hard with his writing in school. He has been a super star putting lots of effort into all his work. Great job Ashton!

Lucy Droop for ALWAYS working so hard in school and tackling everything she does with such enthusiasm and a great big smile. What a star Lucy!

Isabella Jones for putting a lot of effort into her writing this week.

Rupert Gallery for coming into school this week with a super attitude to learning. No task was too big for Rupert, everything was approached with a smile and an 'I can do it' attitude. Super work!

SJ Dunne for such a fantastic learning attitude in school. SJ comes in with a huge smile on his face every day. He has kind, positive things to say about others' work and he always makes us smile! Well done SJ, keep being a wonderful, kind member of your class!

Freya Briggs for approaching every task with confidence and determination to do her very best. She listens carefully to instructions and takes care over her work. Thank you for being such a star Freya, keep it up!

Sophie Sherlock for working her socks off over the past 15 weeks. She has worked incredibly hard at home and especially at school last week- well done. We are very proud of her!

Sebby Rowe for being a super star at school! He has been trying so hard, and did some amazing phonics this week. We are really proud of you Sebby - keep up your hard work and super attitude!

Leena Marsh for amazing effort and enthusiasm in all of her home learning. She always works really hard.

Evelyn Bartlett for excellent reading about The Three Little Pigs in our Revolting Rhymes work.

Xander Burn for his perseverance in his writing over the whole of school closure! Fantastic effort and attitude this week Xander - you are doing so well!

Igor Czechowski for working really hard this week and having a positive attitude towards work in school. Mrs Dean has really noticed - Well Done!

Jasper Kilkenny for having a positive attitude and taking responsibility of his home learning. He has produced some great pieces of the last few weeks - well done Jasper!

Phoebe Wilkinson for starting in her bubble with a positive attitude and trying extremely hard with the learning being set, and making an incredible Italian feast for our Cook School task this week.

Melanie Dufek for being a delight to have in school - always sensible, hardworking and polite to everyone in her bubble.

Keelan Roberts for hard work in all areas of his home learning, consistently putting in really good effort.

Douglas Tasker for being a fantastic Google Classroom student. He works incredibly hard on his home learning and has been sharing lots of interesting things on our Stream with his classmates.

Phoebe Rankin for working so hard in all areas of her learning this week, producing a fantastic information leaflet on Pompeii and some super division work.

Harrison Stagnell for an outstanding piece of work, explaining what happened to the city of Pompeii when Mount Vesuvius erupted.

Harvey Bennett for a great attitude towards his home learning tasks and working really hard on his spellings.

Matilda Thompson for being kind and supportive with new people in her key worker bubble and for always having a hardworking and positive attitude towards everything she does.

Reggie Midgley for consistently coming into school and attacking every piece of learning with a positive and sunny attitude, even if he finds it difficult.

Oliver Bradbury for fantastic effort and hard work consistently across every piece of home learning he does.

Gabriel Whitehead for consistently putting in great effort, working hard and completing lots of home learning.

Ava Gane for getting a 6 week trial with York City following a zoom interview where she had to do a presentation, share her football skills and show her understanding of the game. Well done Ava! We are so proud of you!

Louis Stewart for an excellent attitude to his home learning tasks and giving 100% effort towards his learning. Keep it up Louis!

Finn Cullivan for a super effort with home learning and having a conscientious attitude.

Charlie Blades for working hard whilst in school and maintaining a positive attitude towards learning.

Isaac Richardson for increased accuracy with Maths and Maths Blast work.

Poppy Keogh for writing about great memories of Hempland and great science work.
